DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 3-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 3 recites the limitation "the outer peripheral face" in line 1. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claim1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kornylak USP 4,969,548.

See the attached marked up cover sheet of Kornylak depicting the claimed features.

5. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by French Patent 2760732.

See the attached marked up copy of drawing figure 2 of FR 2760732 depicting the claimed features.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

8. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over French Patent 2760732 (as cited above) in view of Kornylak USP 3,651,911.

FR 2760732 teaches the device as cited above except for the positioning means of the elastic ring having tapered faces expanding outwardly. FR 2760732 teaches a 90 degree outward (vertical to a horizontal) face. Kornylak teaches an elastic ring having tapered faces expanding outwardly in Figure 4. It would have been an obvious matter of design choice as to the shape of the outward face based on design characteristics which are specific to the invention at hand, and since the applicant has not taught that his tapered faces perform any inventive task or are for any particular purpose, the device of FR 2760732 in view of Kornylak meets the limitations of claim 2.

Art Unit: 3651

Allowable Subject Matter

9. Claims 3-5 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

10. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

[57] ABSTRACT

An undriven gravity roller conveyor is disclosed in which a first plurality of idler conveyor rollers having a rigid outer annular wheel surface and an annular tire of an elastomeric material with an inner annular bearing surface of complementary shape, mounted on each rigid outer annular wheel surface, are arranged in successive rows for conveying loads of cargo. The elastomeric tires, as mounted on the wheel surfaces, have substantially equal radial thicknesses providing outer annular bearing surfaces with a first radial dimension and a first circumferential surface area, and are made of a material having an elastic limit by which each of the tires acquires a permanent deformation known as compression set when radially depressed. Support structure having rigid outer annular bearing surfaces concentric with and rotatable about corresponding axes of rotation with the elastomeric tires, have rigid outer annular bearing surfaces characterized by a second and lesser radial dimension and a second circumferential surface area not less than one-half of the first circumferential surface area, receive and directly engage concurrently with one or more of the tires disposed about the corresponding axes a load being simultaneously supported and conveyed by one or more of the tires before the elastomeric material is subjected to an amount of radial deformation which will result in an undesirable amount of compression set.
